FOREIGNERS BID FOR AMERICAN GOODS

New Chances for Energetic Exporters to Other Lands Offered.

Never since the war began in 1914 has he field for American exporters been coader or better than to-day. The esablishment of a system of licensing exports will remove endless confusion d uncertainty in regard to trade with ir allies and with neutrals.

Individual responsibility to see that ur products do not reach the enemy is ot lessened, but the exporter will have not lessened, but the exporter will have the continuous and friendly cooperation of the Government to that end. That opportunities for developing export busi-ness are numerous as ever THE SUN'S weekly lists show clearly.

Addresses are reserved, but may be abtained through THE SUN. Questions egarding published items should be on separate sheets, a sheet to each item, and the number of the item should in all be stated. THE SUN does not furish credit ratings as to the standing of usiness men or firms abroad; the usual recaution should be taken in all cases.

Business Brevities.

The tendency during the coming ful will be in the direction of conservative tyles. This is made evident by the new ines of garments which are being shown the salesrooms and in some infect is preserved. Some of the new garments are slightly fitted in the upper portion. They don't curve in radically at the waistline, however, but merely

These garments are in demand for immediate use, and the styles selected are the early fall models, $4 and pected in the coming season for models with braid trimming of some sort, as the perfectly plain tailored styles that sound the principal note of the fall designing are not at all adapted to many women and they will demand something less severe that still embodies the accepted ideas of designing."

Silks Continue Strong.

Despite expectations of softer prices on raw silks by many piece goods manu-facturers, the tendency on raw silks is still upward. Consumers have realised that there is no use holding off and have had to buy raw stocks, which has resulted in the taking up of a good portion of this year's crop.

The Japanese have the situation well in hand, as they have the only source of supply of the raw material. Although their crop is considerably larger this year than usual, a firm market is Garment Makers' Problems. The higher prices for fabrics have already created a serious situation for makers and distributers of women's ready to wear garments, and conditions bid fair to become more acuts when the present considerable stocks of materials in the hands of manufacturers are exhausted.

The large purchases of knit goods by the Government will affect supplies for commercial purposes for next spring rather than those for the coming fall scason, as retallers have bought a considerable percentage of their requirements for the season which is more immediately at hand.
